

New Allied Truce Plan Unacceptable To South Koreans

By BILL SHIN

SEOUL (AP)—Authoritative South Korean sources today revealed that the secret new Allied truce plan would give the United Nations General Assembly the final say in determining the fate of war prisoners who refuse to return to their Red homelands.

The informants said the proposal handed the Communists Monday at Panmunjom was clearly unacceptable to South Korea. One government official called it "nothing but an Allied defeat by the Communists."

Sent To Moscow

The truce talks were recessed after Monday's session until June 1—apparently at Allied request so Red negotiators can send the plan to peiping, or even to Moscow.

South Korean sources said the new plan reverses the Allies' May 13 proposal under which 34,000 balking North Korean prisoners would be released as civilians immediately after an armistice.

The final disposition of these and 14,500 Chinese captives who refuse to return to Red rule is the last major roadblock to a truce in the nearly three-year-old Korean war.

Commission Retained

The ROK informants said the new Allied plan:

1. "Drops the Allied May 13 proposal that North Korean POWs be freed in South Korea after an armistice. The Reds bitterly oppose this.

2. Retains the Red-proposed five-nation commission to take over the 48,500 reluctant prisoners after a truce. Red agents would have 90 days for "explanations" to the balky captives.

3. Turns over to a post-war political conference all prisoners who still refuse to go back to communism. It was not learned how long the conference would take for this matter, but the original U. N. plan fixed a 30-day period. Finally the remaining POWs in custody would be handed to the U. N. General Assembly.

4. All decisions would be made by majority vote. The exact meaning of this provision could not be immediately determined but presumably it applies to the five-nation commission and political conference.

Truman Cabinet Head Accused Of Undue Influence

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kean (R-NJ) said today he is convinced former Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder exerted "undue influence" in a favorable tax ruling for a liquor company executive.

Snyder said that as a government official he had always given "wholehearted devotion to the public interest."

Tax Ruling Doctored

Kean commented as a House Ways and Means subcommittee, which he heads, arranged testimony today on a second tax case in which Snyder allegedly took a personal hand.

Kean said the subcommittee will look into several "bigger" cases than the one it heard about yesterday. He added the investigating group has no intention of asking Snyder to testify, but will be glad to hear the longtime Truman administration Cabinet member if he wants to be heard.

Snyder is now vice president in charge of finance for Willis-Overland motors, Inc. In a statement issued at Toledo, O., he said:

"I have conscientiously served the government, except for short intervals in private life, for a great many years in a number of responsibilities. In each assignment I have always given wholehearted devotion to the public interest. I

Reynaud Tackles French Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Paul Reynaud, right-wing former premier, agreed today to try piecing together a new French Cabinet and said he would go before the National Assembly Wednesday to ask for confirmation.

Still spiny despite his 74 years, Reynaud conferred for 45 minutes this morning with President Vincent Auriol. As he left, he told reporters, "The international situation, as well as the economic, social and financial situation rule out any possibility of me refusing the offer of the President."

Parliamentary observers were cautious about predicting success for Reynaud's efforts. He is recognized as a financial expert but his conservative approach to present day economic problems may not find favor with the strong leftist factions in the National Assembly.

Reynaud, an Independent, was expected to ask the Assembly for a broad base of support to deal with the problems pressing on France from all sides—the forthcoming talks with Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower at Bermuda, the Indochina war, and a critical financial situation at home.

Communist Chairman Foster Wins Another Delay In His Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—William Z. Foster, American Communist party chairman, has won a new and probably lasting stay from standing trial on charges of conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan Monday granted an indefinite continuance in the case after saying a trial might kill the 72-year-old Foster, who has a bad heart.

Ryan's action was based on the findings of a court-appointed physician.

Kremlin Rejects Offer To Discuss Peace In Austria

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union has turned down a Western invitation to reopen talks Wednesday on an Austrian independence treaty. President Eisenhower had called for Soviet agreement to such a pact as a sign of the "sincere intent" of Russia's post-Stalin peace talk.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik, who also is ambassador to Britain, spurned the Allied offer to reopen the long-stalemated negotiations in a letter to the general secretary of the Big Four's Deputy Foreign Ministers. The letter was published today in Moscow newspapers and broadcast by Moscow radio.

There was no immediate official reaction to the brusque turn-down in Washington, London or Paris. Britain on May 11 had asked the other nations concerned with the treaty—the U. S., France and the Soviet Union—to reopen the talks here Wednesday. The deputies have met already 259 times—the last time Feb. 6—during the past five years in unsuccessful efforts to write a treaty which would give Austria complete independence.

Malik's reply said the Austrian question should be considered "through diplomatic channels by means of a relevant exchange of opinions" but did not specify further what he meant by this.

Malik blamed the deputies' failure to agree on the treaty at previous meetings on "the attitude taken by representatives of the three Western powers."

Under agreements already reached, Russia on conclusion of the treaty would withdraw her "supply forces" from the satellite countries separating her from Soviet occupation troops in Austria. Most Western authorities consider this the chief reason for Russian reluctance to finalize the treaty.

New Atomic Cannon Becomes Reality In U.S. Defense Plans

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The atomic cannon is an established reality today in America's defense plans. Nuclear scientists have compressed the virtual equivalent of a standard A-bomb into a shell only 11 inches in diameter.

These appear to be the principal results of Monday's highly successful first firing of a nuclear shell from the Army's 280 millimeter gun.

But scientists of the Atomic Energy Commission are not relaxing, although the tenth and last scheduled test of the 1953 spring series is over. They are discussing plans for still another test within the next month at Nevada Proving Grounds.

Test Director Carroll L. Tyler will not disclose the nature of the experiment under consideration. There is hardly anything short

Senate Group Looks Into New Mexico's Senatorial Election

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The U. S. Senate Wednesday starts a first-hand probe into New Mexico's 1953 senatorial election.

Three members of a Senate election subcommittee will open—if legal snarls permit—a giant recount of almost a quarter of a million votes cast by New Mexicans last November.

The seat held by Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) is the issue in the recount, which follows a several months investigation by a staff representing the subcommittee. Chavez was certified the victor in the senatorial race by slightly more than 5,000 votes. The loser was Patrick J. Hurley, soldier, statesman and diplomat making his third bid for the Senate.

Hurley filed a contest with the Senate, alleging widespread election irregularities.

Action Held Up On Michigan's Red Ink Budget

LANSING (AP)—Businessmen began appealing to Governor Williams today to veto the Legislature's proposed business receipts tax.

The governor scheduled a statewide radio address on the tax bill Wednesday evening. It will originate in station WJBK, Detroit, at 7:15 p. m. The Executive Office said 30 or more stations would carry the speech, either directly or rebroadcasting it later that night.

Auto Dealers Protest

Asked if the governor would plan to veto or let the bill become law, Paul Weber, Williams' press secretary, replied "I wouldn't be surprised." Weber added the governor's plans for the talk are not completed, however.

A spokesman said the protests against the bill came mainly from druggists, Michigan agents for out-of-state insurance companies, and auto dealers. The latter were reportedly dealers for Ford and General Motors Corporation which were charged on the legislative floor with principal authorship of the bill.

Gov. Williams continued to maintain silence on the measure.

Informed opinion was balanced between belief that he will veto it and that he will let it become law without his signature, with the former idea possibly holding a slight preponderance.

Solons Return June 4

No one now expects the governor to sign the bill. He has 10 days in which to act from last Friday.

The tax bill would levy four mills on the receipts of business, self-employed professional people and farmers above $10,000 a year and after at least 50 per cent of their total income is deducted for operating expenses. Public utilities would pay only one mill.

It exempts insurance finance companies, banks, charitable organizations, credit unions, labor unions and income from intangi-

President's Military Budget Is Invitation To Attack, Foes Claim

By RUSSELL BRINES and JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Price (D-Ill.) today termed President Eisenhower's military budget "an invitation for an enemy attack." He called upon Secretary of Defense Wilson to "give real assurance to the American people that defense was the primary objective" in cutting funds for air power.

And influential Senate Democrats, declaring open warfare on administration military policies, aimed at substituting foreign aid cuts for proposed Air Force economies.

Joint Chiefs Ignored?

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) and Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said in separate interviews they will vote within the appropriations committee to cut back Mutual Security Administration (MSA) funds while opposing a reduction in aviation funds.

Price, an armed services committee member, suggested in a speech prepared for the House that "accountants" in the Bureau of the Budget may have overruled Wilson and ignored the Joint Chiefs of Staff in setting the $36,171,288,000 military budget for the year beginning July 1.

The figure is $5,247,128,000 less than former President Truman recommended. But it includes an increase of more than one billion dollars for the Army, largely to finance the Korean War.

General Uncommitted

Price said $919,134,000 was trimmed from naval aviation, in addition to $5,000,000,000 slashed from Air Force funds. He said that made the air power cuts about six billion dollars. Eisenhower has said that 60 cents of every defense dollar next year will go to the Air Force and the Navy for air power.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, on his return from a trip to South America, told newsmen last night he attended a meeting of the National Security Council at which the final decision was made to accept proposed fund cuts.

"I was there to answer questions, but I was not asked for my opinion and did not give it," Vandenberg said. "There I neither approved nor disapproved."

He declined immediate comment on the effect of the cuts.

Sen. Russell joined other Democrats in scoffing at Secretary Wilson's contention that air strength will be built up despite the proposed appropriations slash.

Ford Gives Big Pension Boost

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Company did General Motors one better in voluntarily revising its five-year contract with the CIO United Auto Workers early today by giving the union the best major pension plan in the industry—a maximum of $137.50 a month.

Before it did so, however, Ford demanded and was given assurance that the crippling strike of UAW workers at its Canton, O., forge plant would be halted immediately. That five-week-old tieup had idled 85,000 of Ford's 135,000 production workers and virtually shut down the vast Ford production system.

The big boosts in pension payments—$12.50 to $35 a month—came as somewhat of a bombshell after General Motors signed a supplemental agreement with the UAW Friday without any pension improvements.

Contracts with GM, Chrysler and virtually all the other automotive firms provide maximum pensions of $125 a month. Both this and the new $137.50 Ford figure include federal social security benefits. All apply at age 65 after 30 years' service. The $35 boost at Ford is for 20-year men who now will get $115 a month instead of $80.

The pension plan, other than the social security portion, will be financed entirely by the company.

Congress May Settle For Less On Legislation

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indications are growing that Congress may settle this year for less legislation than Republican leaders and President Eisenhower originally programmed.

Nothing official has been said, but it appears at least highly possible that both the Hawaiian statehood bill and an extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act may still be on the shelf when Congress quits for the year.

Revision of the Taft-Hartley Act also appears to be in some jeopardy.

Tariff Study Asked

Following yesterday's White House legislative conference, House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass.) listed both statehood and reciprocal trade as "must" legislation.

But considerable sentiment was reported in the House to let the Trade Agreements Act expire and then write a new law after a special commission to study the whole question of tariffs has reported to the President. The President asked Congress to authorize such a commission. The Senate has okayed the idea; the matter is pending in the House.

Eisenhower asked also for a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act beyond June 12, but some legislators are reported to feel no great harm would be incurred by allowing the present law to expire. Secretary of State Dulles has said expiration would have a bad psychological effect abroad.

Labor Laws Bog Down

Expiration would not affect present tariff levels. It would simply take from the President the right to enter into new tariff agreements with foreign nations. The administration has said it plans none now.

Some Southern senators were reportedly prepared to talk at great length against the Hawaiian statehood measure. Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio has conceded the house—passed bill to make Hawaii the 49th state would be before the Senate for a long time.

Taft-Hartley revision has cleared the public hearings stage but is bogged down in both Senate and House Labor Committees. Congress has not yet heard from the White House on how the present law should be changed and Senate Democrats are insisting on administration recommendations before they start the task of rewriting the 1947 law.

Bolter Sen. Morse Demoted By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.), who bolted the Republican party in the 1952 election campaign, found himself at the extreme foot of the table today on Senate committee assignments.

With his former GOP colleagues almost solid against him, the Senate Monday rejected 56-19 Morse's five-month fight to get back his old assignments on two major committees—Labor and Armed Services.

At Bottom of List

When his resolution was beaten, Morse made no further effort to block his assignment to the committees which the Republican Senate majority left for him last January—Public Works and District of Columbia. Most senators consider those groups far less desirable than Labor and Armed Services.

The Oregon senator had been on the Labor Committee for all of his eight years in the Senate prior to this session, and on Armed Services or its predecessor for seven of those years. On Public Works and District of Columbia, Morse will be at the bottom of the list in seniority.

He has been arguing since January that his seniority entitled him to go back on Labor and Armed Services.

But the reply from the GOP was that seniority applied only within a party, not to the Senate as a whole. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) told him Monday, that the GOP this session had tried to get the best possible committee jobs for its 46 members, and leave for Morse only what no one else wanted. Each senator is entitled to at least two committee posts.

Morse's resolution was designed to woo the GOP because it provided that not only he, but as extra Republican, would go on each of the two committees. This would have preserved the majority party's control.

Sabre Jets Bag 12 More Migs

By ROBERT B. TACKMAN

SEOUL (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets shot down 12 Communist MIGs and damaged another today, boosting their MIG kills this month to 51—just 12 less than the war's one-month record set last September.

Two pilots bagged two MIGs each in battles high over North Korea.

Maj. James Jabara of Wichita, Kan., the world's first jet ace now serving his second combat tour in Korea, got two and boosted his total kills to nine. Maj. Jack E. Mass of Red Bank, N. J., doubled his score with two MIGs.

The war's one-day record is 13 kills, one probably and seven damaged on July 4, 1952. Today's bag was the biggest since May 18 when 12 Red jets were destroyed.

Night-flying B26 bombers wiped out 90 Communist trucks, destroyed a locomotive, seven box cars and a railroad bridge in pre-dawn strikes, the Air Force said.

B29 Superforts smashed a 130-acre troop and supply area north of Hamhung on Korea's east coast and bombed smaller supply dumps in the same area.

Ground fighting dwindled to patrol clashes as the air war mounted in intensity.

Allied warships pounded Communist shore batteries and other installations on both coasts, the Navy announced.

Taft In Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP)—Holmes Hospital reported this morning that Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) was in "good condition and resting comfortably."

The Senate majority leader entered the hospital Monday for a check-up of the hip ailment which recently hospitalized him in Washington.

Start Widening Of 10th Street

Escanaba public works crews today resumed work in widening S. 10th Street to a full 36 feet width to permit two lanes of traffic and two outer lanes for parking.

The street had previously been widened from Ludington south to Sixth Avenue, said City Manager A. V. Aronson. Widening now under way is from Sixth Avenue south to Lake Shore Drive, a distance of three blocks.

The city has now completed curb and gutter and gravel base on Fifth Avenue S. to 23rd street and all that remains is the application of blacktop surface to complete the project.

Similar curb and gutter work has been completed at the new city water plant at Sand Point, and the roadway to the bathing beach in Ludington Park is also being improved.

Blacktop surfacing will be applied on Fifth Avenue and other scheduled streets this summer.

Donated Blood Will Help Prevent Polio Paralysis

Through the June 1-4 blood plasma clinic in Delta County the people will have the opportunity to provide the nation with an increased supply of gamma globulin, the new weapon against paralysis from polio.

In addition blood will be furnished by local citizens for local use in the form of plasma and blood fractions. These will be supplied in proportion to the amount of blood collected in Delta county. The armed forces and civilian defense share in the collected blood plasma and fractions.

The blood plasma clinic is sponsored by the Delta County Medical Society with the Michigan Department of Health and the local chapter of the American Red Cross cooperating.

Must Have Donors

Gamma globulin, described as "a powerful new weapon against the paralyzing effect of polio" cannot be obtained unless there is a generous donation of whole blood from Delta county, the Red Cross has been informed.

"This is one of the blood products which will be made from your blood," said the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, Escanaba, Red Cross chapter chairman. "Military and civil defense needs go on, but this is a new era of hope made from your blood."

Delta county must have at least 440 donors for the four-day plasma clinic, Rev. Dickson pointed out. Unless there is a generous response the whole program will fail for want of the vitally needed blood.

Blood donors who have given in the past are being asked to give again, and to bring one more volunteer with them to register. Registration are to be made

Weather Office Curtailed Here

The United States Weather Bureau in Escanaba will become a one-man station June 1, when Thomas D. Coen, meteorologist here, is transferred to the Marquette station, S. E. Decker, meteorologist in charge, announced today.

Explaining the change will force a cut-down in general weather service and in office hours, Decker said he did not know what the full extent of the curtailment would be. He said, however, he would try to hold it to a minimum.

The observational program will continue unaltered, Decker stated. He said part-time observers, who now take evening and midnight observations, will fill in during daytime observation periods.

Decker said the weather bureau's office space will soon be reduced from three rooms to two. He said planning for this began some months ago, and was not connected with Coen's change of station.

A statement on office hours will be issued later, Decker said.

Rev. Hammar Describes Camp At Michigan At Kiwanis Meeting

An interesting description of the Methodist youth camp at Lake Michigan, illustrated with color photograph slides, was given to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday by the Rev. Karl Hammar of the Central Methodist church.

The local pastor said that the Lake Michigan project was one of the pioneer church camps of this area, and has been in operation for a third of a century. It has several unique features, including a garden of meditation, a mountaintop worship park, and a beautifully fashioned log chapel. Hikes, supervised swimming, baseball and various other games are on the recreation program, and there are courses in Bible study, church history, handicraft and forestry, with competent instructors. Several phases of activity at the beautiful lake camp site were depicted in the color slides shown by the Rev. Hammar.

Carpenters Picket Mill At Humboldt

Construction of an $8 million low grade iron ore concentrate mill at Humboldt was closed yesterday by pickets of the Ishpeming carpenters' union who seek a union contract on the project and gain a 15 cents an hour pay increase for the workers.

The construction is by A. V. Walvoord, Inc., for Cleveland Cliffs Company and Ford Motor Company. Eighty men were off the job today and none indicated any desire to cross the picket line and return to work.

Carpenters on the Humboldt Mill job are being paid $2.25 per hour, a rate which is 5 cents per hour above the present scale for the region.

One meeting has been held between the union and management but no agreement was reached.

Ship Williams In Harbor Here

The U. S. Lake Survey Ship Williams tied up at Escanaba City Dock about 7:10 last night, ready to begin a summer of sounding operations on Green Bay, Harvey Hodge is captain of the ship.

The Williams, which is operated by the United States Lake Survey, Corps of Engineers, but manned by a wholly civilian crew, has had an advance party based here since early April putting in shore control for hydrographic operations, according to F. W. Robinson, civil engineer in charge. Robinson explained that most of the advance party's work has been building signals along the Lake Michigan shore.

The summer's work will consist of replacing soundings last taken in Green Bay in the 1800's, Robinson said. He explained the Williams carries recording echo sounding machines which take the water depths. The machines record at the rate of 200 soundings a minute, making a record on sensitized paper. They send sound down and it is echoed back from the bottom of the lake.

The Williams will probably operate out of Escanaba until about August 1, when the hope is to have completed the sounding of Green Bay from Chambers Island to Burnt Bluff, Robinson stated. The ship will put in here weekends.

He said the Williams' task consists solely of charting and of gathering water level information. Maintenance and construction, he explained, are handled by other districts of the Corps of Engineers.

The Williams, which helped break the ice jam at Sault Ste. Marie this spring, carries a crew of 23 persons. Seventeen of these are ship's crew and six are survey crew. No one from Escanaba is among the crew.

Besides Capt. Hodge, other ship's officers are John L. Heath, mate; Merle C. Gigous, engineer; and Joseph Khoury, first assistant engineer. George P. Schreiber is assistant civil engineer in charge.

State Cattle To Be Sold Here

The Michigan Department of Agriculture will place on sale 61 State of Michigan institutional surplus cattle Wednesday June 17 at 12 noon at the State Fair Grounds, Joseph L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, announced today.

The 61 cattle are all registered Holsteins. Included are many bred heifers, several 4-H Club heifers, some close springers, and seven young bulls.

The herds have all been classified for type and all animals consigned are from production-tested stock, many from high record dams.

Heirman explained all state institutions have purebred Holstein cattle. He said they cannot use them all, so from time to time there is a sale. Cattle at the forthcoming sale are consigned from State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson, State House of Correction and Branch Prison at Marquette, Mt. Pleasant State Home and Training School, Newberry State Hospital, and Traverse City State Hospital.

C. B. Smith will be auctioneer.

Rotary Club Plans To Honor Students At June 3 Meeting

Following annual custom the Escanaba Rotary Club will on Wednesday, June 3, be host to honor students of Escanaba High School and St. Joseph's High School and their parents at a noon luncheon at the Delta Hotel.

Because of the increasing number of scholarships and awards it has been necessary for the committee in charge to hold the invitation list to those who are receiving locally sponsored awards.

Plans for the Honor Day luncheon were discussed at yesterday's Rotary Club meeting.

In other business yesterday the Rotarians heard Robert Losse, recent member, give a biography of his life and work; and viewed a moving picture "Living Within the Law", presented through the courtesy of the State Bar of Michigan. The program was introduced by Atty. Denis McGinn, chairman.

Four Convicts Still At Large In Peninsula

MARQUETTE (AP) — Four of seven convicts who broke out of Marquette Prison Friday night still eluded the efforts of more than 200 armed men seeking to track them down today in the wilderness of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Two prison guards Monday captured one of the seven, John Podolski, in Negaunee, eight miles from Marquette. Podolski, spotted by a Negaunee resident, was picked up as he walked along a street.

Hiding in Woods?
He was the third to be recaptured since the spectacular prison break—one of the few from the strong penal institution.

Police believed the four convicts still at large are hiding in a swampy woods near the prison.

The other recaptured prisoners, Lloyd Burgdorf, and John Saunders, were picked up within 24 hours of the break.

Warden Emery E. Jacques said the escapees had slashed other inmates who tried to interfere with the break. The injured were treated at the prison hospital for cuts on their faces, necks, and arms.

Photographs Circulated
Marquette residents continued to remain close to their homes. Many women were reported keeping an armed vigil in their homes while their husbands were at work.

Police have circulated hundreds of identification photographs in Marquette area business district to aid in the search.

State police, Marquette County sheriff's officers, National Guardsmen, and city police concentrated the hunt in Marquette County within a 15 mile radius of Marquette.

Spring Greens Are At Their Best Now In Michigan

May and June are the "height of season" months for Michigan spring greens—leaf lettuce, kale, endive, watercress, Swiss chard, mustard greens, tender beet and turnip tops. The kinds available will vary in different localities, but they are among our "good buys" in the leafy green group of vegetables at this season of the year, says George Motts, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist at Michigan State College.

When you're shopping for greens, look for those that are bright and crisp with few coarse stems or wilted leaves. Seed stems among the leaves indicates over-maturity and toughness for almost any green.

Spring greens are sold prepackaged in plastic bags as well as from bulk display. Prepackaged greens usually sell for a little more per pound, but there is a saving in waste and added convenience.

At home, all kinds of greens should be stored in air-tight containers in the refrigerator, and home economists suggest that they should not be washed until just before using.

If you're interested in preserving greens in the home freezer, you'll

Tax On "Adjusted Receipts" Is In Reality A Tax On Consumers

THE four-mill tax on "adjusted receipts" enacted by the Michigan Legislature apparently is headed for a gubernatorial veto and it is well that this is so.

Of all the various tax proposals studied by the lawmakers, this one is among the most inequitable. It is not predicated at all upon profits but rather upon receipts. In a sense it is another form of a sales tax and as such will be passed on to all of the people as a consumer's tax.

Gov. Williams has not yet announced that he will veto the bill but his weekly news letter indicates his complete displeasure with the bill. He says that the Legislature acted in haste and confusion and that House members particularly were given no opportunity to debate the measure, to offer amendments and, for that matter, to have it adequately explained to them.

The governor adds further that he regards the measure as being poorly drafted, full of inequities and inconsistencies and may be open to question as to constitutionality.

The "adjusted receipts" tax, if it becomes law, will be a tax on doing business and as such, it will necessitate higher prices. It places an unfair burden upon industries wholly within this state but which must compete with industries in other states that are unaffected by tax laws such as this one.

The basic feature of this tax law is that it is a levy against receipts, not of profits. No deductions are permitted for labor or costs. Undoubtedly the yardstick for taxation would create many inequities and result in discrimination.

Will France Approve European Defense Treaty?

ONLY one obstacle stands in the way of a full and final West German approval of the European defense treaty. The German high court must pass on the constitutionality of the pact.

Prospects for favorable court action are considered good. If that is so, then Chancellor Adenauer's victory is almost in hand. With notable statesmanship, he has now piloted the treaty measure successfully through both houses of the Bonn Parliament.

West Germany thus has become the first of the six signatory nations to win parliamentary ratification of the pact. The example is impressive. And there is not much doubt that Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg are willing to follow it.

The question mark, of course, is France. To begin with, the French want a settlement of the thorny Saar issue before going ahead. Negotiations are under way on this in Paris, but there's no indication yet how they are faring.

The Germans have said they would accept any solution calling for the internationalizing of the Saar. But the French haven't yet shown any willingness to release their tight economic grip on the coal-rich area.

Even if this difficulty is surmounted, no assurance exists that France would then move with speed to ratify the defense pact. The French have other conditions they would like to attach, conditions that would assure them a powerful voice in the treaty organization regardless of their military manpower representation.

The French have understandable fears of a revived German militarism. But the EDC pact was their own idea, a device shrewdly conceived to make use of German strength while keeping it within the control of an international organization.

It would be a sad twist if the French should now show themselves unable to get their fears under reasonable control and give EDC the crucial push it needs.

The French would then stand before the free world as the destroyers of the unity of Europe which they were the first to clothe in such bright hopes. They would then have allowed the memory of an old menace—Germany—to cloud their recognition of the new and greater threat from the Soviet Union.

Questions and Answers

By Congressional Quarterly

Q—Besides trying to prevent delivery of strategic goods to Iron Curtain countries, are we doing anything to keep this material here where we can use it?

A—Yes. The Export Control Act gives the Secretary of Commerce power to prevent scarce defense materials from leaving the country. The Senate and House have voted to extend the Act, scheduled to expire June 30, 1953, but did not on the length of the extension.

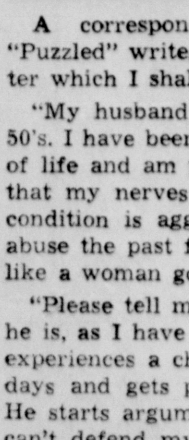

Q—Have the courts decided whether the lobby registration law is constitutional?

A—Lower courts have invalidated key parts of the law, but final appeals have not yet been decided. In March, 1952, a U. S. District Court called sections of the law too vague to be enforceable. The Supreme Court reversed the decision on a technicality, without ruling on the law itself. On Jan. 30, 1953, District Judge Alexander Holtzoff dismissed charges against four alleged lobbyists who had failed to register. He said the penalty clause was invalid, making the registration clause void, too. On May 4, the Supreme Court agreed to review Judge Holtzoff's decision.

Medical Opinion Is Divided On Change of Life in Men

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A correspondent who signs herself "Puzzled" writes a sad but interesting letter which I shall quote at some length.

"My husband and I are in our early 50's. I have been going through the change of life and am pretty well along except that my nerves are still a problem. This condition is aggravated by my husband's abuse the past few years. He seems to me like a woman going through the change.

"Please tell me if this is making him as he is, as I have been told that a man also experiences a change. He is moody some days and gets peeved over trivial things. He starts arguments, and I find that I can't defend myself or he gets furious at me. I have told him that he needs medical care, but can't get him to go."

It must be almost intolerable living with a man like that. He may be just naturally ornery, but it is possible that his age is also making him worse.

The question of a change of life in men is complicated, and medical opinion is divided as to whether or not there is a rapid decrease in the functioning of the sex glands in men in any way comparable to that which occurs in women. Certainly many men do not have any symptoms at all which can be attributed to it. Some, however, do show fairly definite physical or emotional changes some time in their 50's. Feelings of tension which are made worse by excitement or fatigue are sometimes described. There is a tendency for excitement to be exaggerated and unfavorable news, arguments, or slight disturbances which would not bother a person ordinarily may cause extreme nervousness.

SEX GLAND FUNCTION

These symptoms, including quarrelsomeness, and possibly difficulty with sleeping, decreased ability to concentrate, mild depression, and the like, are perhaps—but not certainly—associated with decrease in the function of the sex glands.

Authorities have studied the effect of injections of the male hormone—testosterone propionate—in men complaining of such symptoms as those mentioned. The value of this is still doubtful.

As one authority put it, "sex hormones should not be administered to men and women of climacteric (change of life) age with the idea of stimulating increased sexual potency; if this is the object of treatment, disappointment will result in the great majority of instances."

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The President is becoming increasingly moody over the shortcomings of certain cabinet members. Here is the general line-up of how the cabinet rates with Ike.

He takes an increasingly dim view of Secretary of State Dulles.

Secretary of Defense Wilson annoys him.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson is liked, but the President has begun to realize that the farmers don't.

Secretary of Labor Durkin seems to make no impression on the President, is regarded as a necessary evil.

Secretary of Interior McKay has left the President pretty much alone, knows how to get things done without ruffling White House waters.

Attorney General Brownell and Postmaster General Summerfield rank high, somewhere behind Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Ike is concerned about the health of his legislative liaison expert Gen. Wilton B. Persons. Persons is a No. 1 advocate of compromise with Ike's enemies in congress. This policy now shows signs of failure, and Persons' health may force him to withdraw from the job.

Ike has also lost some of his enthusiasm for his chief of staff, former Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire. Adams has his eye on Sen. Styles Bridges' seat which is up for grabs next year, and this could be Adams' cue to bow out of the White House.

What Ike is hunting for are more people with a global view, including a White House chief of staff with more international experience.

RED POTASH IN U. S.

It's been kept undercover, but the Communists are dumping potash in the U. S. A. at cut-rate prices.

American producers claim this is an attempt to close down our domestic mines, so we will be caught short of potash in case of an emergency. They point out that potash is high on the strategic list, since farmers must have it for fertilizer.

This column has been able to trace the flow of Communist potash back to an East Berlin firm, called DIA, run by German front men but strictly controlled by the Russians. Their source of supply is the East German potash mines in the Communist zone.

Three American firms have been quietly doing business with DIA and peddling the Communist potash on the American potash market at knock-down prices. They are: Woodard and Dickerson of Philadelphia; General Fertilizer and H. J. Baker, both of New York.

However, Herbert Rauffuss of Woodward and Dickerson explained to this column that he not only had the State Department's permission to trade in East German potash but had actually been encouraged to keep the lines of trade open behind the iron curtain. He claimed that his company had been bartering third-rate tobacco for the potash. Thus, the west has been getting strategic potash in return for poor-grade tobacco, and he argued that would be unpatriotic not to snap up such a deal.

Furthermore, he pointed out that the government, itself, bought 40,000 tons of Communist potash from his company and trans-shipped it to Formosa to help Chiang Kai-Shek's farmers. The deal was made through the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Note: Dozens of private fertilizer plants have refused to buy the cheaper East German potash and are paying as much as $10 a ton more to American producers. In brief, the U. S. government is buying Communist potash that many American firms have boycotted.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Senate Red hunters are hiring a secret ex-Communist wife to catalogue any party-liners in American colleges. Chief investigator Robert Morris went behind closed doors to ask the senate judiciary committee for permission to pay her without putting her on the pay roll. He made the request in an aura of great mystery, refused even to divulge her name. The committee finally agreed that she could be hired anonymously for two days a week at $35 per day . . . Secretary of Defense Wilson has refused to turn over comparisons between Russian and American plane production to his chief budget critic, Democratic Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri. "I am sure you are aware," wrote Wilson, "of the problem from the standpoint of security." Yet Symington used to be secretary of the Air Force with clearance to see the nation's most guarded secrets . . . the Air Force still has received no takers on the $100,000 offer to any Red pilot who will deliver a MIG fighter into American hands in Korea.

Early in the war, however, a North Korean pilot flew a Russian World War II Yak across the lines and turned it over to the Americans.

Payroll Doubles:

Profit-Sharing Makes $8000 Yearly For 1200 Workers

By WADE JONES

NEA Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND—(NEA)— They've got a plant here where the average worker makes more than $8000 a year. For a 40-hour week.

Its 1200 workers get nearly double the money of those doing the same type of work in other plants.

The company still sells its principal product at approximately the 1939-1940 price.

Each worker produces about $36,000 worth of goods a year, or nearly four times the amount turned out by workers in average comparable industries.

Since 1934 the company has cut direct labor hours in its product by 90 per cent. But it employs four times as many people as it did then. Its gross earnings last year were $40 million.

It has never missed paying an annual dividend, which in recent years has been set at six per cent. More than 70 per cent of the workers own stock in the company.

The name of this industrial marvel is the Lincoln Electric Co., world's largest maker of arc welding equipment.

The big gimmick in its operation is profit sharing, or dividing up profits among employees in the form of bonuses. Last year, with an annual payroll of $5 million, Lincoln Electric distributed another $5 million in bonuses.

That sort of thing accounts for 1200 happy, smiling faces out at the Lincoln plant. It also accounts for Lincoln Electric's getting called various and sometimes uncomplimentary things.

The system has been called communistic. Yet Lincoln officials say European visitors to the plant have seen it as the perfect antidote to communism.

"At a party the other night I talked until I was hoarse trying to persuade some people our operation is not socialistic," says Charles Herbruck, assistant to the secretary.

All this about a company whose 70-year-old president, tough and tall James F. Lincoln, hated the New Deal so much he once said he would not spend a cent for plant expansion "as long as (it) runs things." But he offered to give other companies his trade secrets so they could produce more to make up for his lack of expansion.

He once turned down an Army-Navy E pennant for production excellence because the government at the same time had a tax case against him.

The company paid its first bonus in 1934. Employees had asked for a raise. The company said it couldn't afford to give one. The employees countered with the suggestion that if they increased output during the year, would the company give them a share of the extra profits? The company said yes.

The bonus that year averaged $300 per worker. Last year it averaged more than $4000 per worker.

In general Lincoln's profit-sharing plan works like this:

PRESIDENT AND TWO BOSSES: Lincoln Electric's James F. Lincoln (center) talks business with two of the 1200 workers who share independence—and company profits.

are rated on their work as to quality, quantity, supervision required and cost reduction ideas and effort.

At the end of the year the two six-month ratings are averaged up and each worker is given a final rating. This rating, related to his base pay, determines how much of a bonus he will get. It averaged out last year to 100 per cent of the base pay, with some workers getting more and some less, depending on their ratings.

Lincoln doesn't minimize the importance of the bonus in stimulating the workers to set their phenomenal production records. But he also likes to think that certain attendant morale factors play a big part.

The workmen, particularly on the assembly line turning out the welding machines, are pretty much on their own as to how to do the job fastest and best. There is a minimum of assistant foremen, inspectors and clerks.

Lincoln believes this independence, plus the bonus, leads workers to the feeling that "we are a man among men."

It's pretty hard to get a workman in the Lincoln plant to stop turning out the gadgets and raking in the dollars long enough to talk about his job.

Ed Spehar, who runs a machine that slits big metal sheets into little ones, allowed us about $1.19 worth of his precious time to say:

"This is the best place to work in the world. I couldn't save a dime at the job I had before this. Now I'm in good shape. I don't work too hard. I just keep hustling. I make twice as much here as I could on the outside."

Unions don't know quite what to make of profit-sharing operations like the one at Lincoln. Walter Reuther, head of the system. Twice a year employees

ASSEMBLY LINE doesn't stop—even for the camera—at the Lincoln Electric plant.

The basis of it is the piecework CIO, said recently his organization had "mixed feelings" on the matter. Even in this labor stronghold, there has never been a union at Lincoln.

The Federal government took the position, in a 10-year legal battle just ended, that Lincoln Electric escaped paying some whopping taxes by handing out its whopping bonuses. But Lincoln won the case.

And the profit-sharing plan is catching on around the rest of the country. The Council of Profit Sharing Industries reports between 12,000 and 15,000 such plans are in operation now, about 20 times the 1942 figure. New ones are being set up at the rate of about 20 a week.

WATER DIVINERS—Is it possible for a person with a "sixth sense" of some sort to locate a supply of underground water? Scientists and well drillers will tell you "No." They do not believe in water diviners or water witches. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Kenneth Roberts, noted novelist, shrugs at the thought of anyone consulting the man with the forked stick in efforts to find a water source.

Through the years we have looked upon the subject as one for more or less idle speculation. We have reported success and failure in the art of water divining, as related by others who consulted the diviners.

And then a couple years ago we started trying to locate a source of water near our camp, only a short distance from the shore of Big Bay de Noc. We will tell you later how the water diviner helped us.

THE SUPERNATURAL—In our reading on the subject we had learned that in an earlier day the water diviner was credited with a knowledge of the supernatural.

The old name "water witch" indicates that people once thought the water finder was in league with spirits.

Sometimes the person who could locate underground water sources was a man, sometimes a woman. They were always older persons, according to the stories, and the pictures accompanying such articles usually revealed an old man with a flowing beard or an old woman wearing a sunbonnet holding the divining stick.

The crowd followed the diviner at a respectful distance, apparently fearful that some of the magic might come out of the "witching rod" and do something to them.

FACT OR FANCY—Novelist Roberts relates how he purchased a farm in New England and was unable to locate a suitable supply of water.

Then he heard about the water diviners of Vermont and called on them for help. They made their surveys separately—yet all agreed on the best sites for a well.

Well drillers poh-poohed the idea but drilled where the water diviners said—and the result was a flowing well. Roberts then began a study of the subject of water divining and found that in Canada the government has "water witches" on its payroll, while the U. S. Department of Agriculture calls the whole thing a myth and a legend.

Whatever water divining is, Roberts was pleased with the result and convinced they possessed some power beyond the knowledge of most men.

STORY OF FAILURE—In the case I promised to tell you about the water diviner was none other than my Uncle Robert from Great Falls, Mont., who visited here late last summer.

On a trip over to my camp I told him of the difficulty encountered in locating a well. The surface of the ground at camp along the shore of Big Bay de Noc is sandy, but beneath the sand is a layer of heavy clay at least 20 feet thick. There was no water in the clay.

"Why don't you use a stick?" asked my uncle.

He then explained that a water diviner could find water there. He could do it for me, he added, because he "could make the stick work."

Cutting a forked branch from a wild cherry tree he walked back and forth until the end of the branch dipped toward the ground.

AND SUCCESS—After twice failing to find water near camp I didn't start digging again until last weekend. Then I dug at the spot my uncle had marked.

Four feet down the sand changed into a strata of fine gravel—not the hard clay I had encountered at other places—and water rushed into the hole as if from an underground stream!

Here it was—clear water and lots of it. Not 20 feet or more down but just a few feet beneath the surface.

Was it luck? coincident? I don't know. But I placed the forked stick my uncle had used, now grown brittle, ceremoniously on a nearby stump.

Ever since the word welcome has been in use it has been something else for some people to take advantage of.

Accidents Kill 12 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)
Traffic accidents took 10 lives and two others drowned in Michigan over the weekend.

Thomas McKendry, 23, of Capac, and Lawrence J. Neaton, 26, of Yale, were killed in a two-car collision Sunday on M-21 three miles west of Capac.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Speaker of Birch Run, in southern Saginaw County, were killed Sunday in a two-car collision on M-33 northeast of West Branch. Police said Speaker was making a left turn off the highway when another auto came over a hill and hit his car.

Three occupants of the second car suffered minor injuries.

Emil Hartner, 48, of Saginaw, was struck and fatally injured as he stepped from his parked car on M-83 just south of Saginaw Sunday.

Mary Ann Raguckis, 4, was killed Saturday near her Grand Rapids home when, witnesses told police, she dashed into the street from behind a truck and was hit by a passing car.

Two young boys were drowning victims.

Fourteen-year-old Anthony Calabrese floundered and went down Sunday while trying to swim across the Muskegon River near his Oscoda County home at Hersey. Another youth was swimming with him and said he just made it across the 100-foot stream.

Gregory Lawler, 5, of Saginaw, drowned in the Au Gres River Saturday shortly after his grandfather left him fishing on the bank. The grandfather, Frank M. Cross, found the boy's hat and sailboat floating in the water and later located the body.

Neighbors Open New Street With Picnic

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—About 50 neighbors celebrated the completion of paving on Bowling Green Ave. here with a picnic spread on tables set up in the middle of the street.

"Just a general get-together before our street was opened officially," said John T. Johnson. "Nice to get to know one another, you know. Of course, it was all thought up by the women out this way."

Americans Reluctant To Invest In Orient

BOMBAY (AP)—Fifty-eight of the 128 Indian Jews who returned from Israel last August charging racial discrimination have petitioned Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion for permission to resettle in Israel.

raeli authorities to send them back to India. Now they have called for financial assistance for a second attempt at integration in the Jewish homeland.

You Can Chop Your Hay Long or Short...
Cured or Green WITH A JOHN DEERE Forage Harvester

YOU'RE set to put up your forage crops any way you want—chop field-cured hay long... slice windrowed grass silage crops short—with a versatile John Deere Forage Harvester.

Adjustable length of cut provides a 3-1/2 inch cut for cured hay... 1/2-inch cut for silage. Cured hay chopped with the long cut keeps better, is less dusty when feeding, and is easier to fork with less waste. Silage crops cut to the short cut pack better in your silo, with fewer air pockets... less spoilage.

Converting the John Deere for once-over harvesting of ensilage row crops is merely a matter of substituting the row-crop unit for the windrow pickup. See us for details. Come in soon!

Farm Leaders Suggest Policy

County agricultural leaders met yesterday afternoon in the Postoffice to make recommendations to the Agricultural Conservation Program of the United States Department of Agriculture on policies for 1954. Mrs. Irene Blomberg of the Production Marketing Administration said today.

The Conservation Program encourages certain conservation practices by loaning funds to farmers who will undertake these practices. The loans represent a part of the cost of the undertakings.

Recommendations which county leaders arrived at yesterday cover the type project for which loans should be made in Delta County. Mrs. Blomberg stressed that yesterday's meeting produced recommendations only. None of the recommendations are as yet Department of Agriculture policy, she underlined.

Recommend Projects

Among projects recommended for encouragement on Delta County farms were terraces to control the flow of water and check soil erosion; establishment of permanent sod waterways; establishment of a permanent cover of perennial legumes or grasses on severely eroded abandoned cropland or other types of damaged land; establishment of contour stripcropping on nonterraced land; planting, interplanting or replanting trees or shrubs on farm land for windbreaks and other purposes; and improving a stand of forest trees.

All these projects were included for consideration on the Agricultural Conservation Program's preliminary prospectus. Delta County leaders suggested four additional projects for consideration. These were planting of a winter cover crop; land clearing projects for farms with 100 acres or under of cleared land now in use of fertilizer on land on which there is no companion crop, that is, on old hay land or pasture land; and weed control.

To Washington

The recommendations will be sent to Washington by Mrs. Blomberg to the state office in Lansing, which will forward them to Washington.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Frank Brander, Rock, chairman of the county committee of the Production Marketing Administration, and Conrad Herlioux, Bark River, and Vincent Rappette, Flat Rock, the other two members of the same committee. Also present were several Production Marketing Administration community committeemen, P. Seppanen, Rock; H. Olson, Hyde; C. Freytag, Isabella; E. Fenlon, Ford River; and R. Rose, Cornell.

Also: Joseph L. Heirman, county agricultural agent; Irwin Ten Haken, soil conservationist; Felix Juska, Farm and Home Administration; C. L. Harrison, Forestry Service; E. Bergman, Soil Conservation Service, and Mrs. Blomberg.

ble property, such as stocks and bonds.

The legislature is at home waiting to see what the governor does with the bill, designed to balance the state's red ink budget. It will return June 4 when the deadline for gubernatorial action has passed and then pass on the budget for next year.

MORE BILLS SIGNED

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams signed 20 legislative bills into law today. Included are measures that: Provide that persons sentenced to one year or less shall be committed to county jails or the Detroit House of Correction instead of state prisons.

Permit the State Department of Social Welfare to transfer incorrigible inmates of the Boys Vocational School to facilities operated by the Corrections Department, other than prisons.

Require the budget division to prepare a long-range program for construction at state institutions for the guidance of the Legislature.

Increase the salary of the director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission from $12,000 to $13,500 a year.

Permit any person whose drivers license has been revoked for any reason except violation of the financial responsibility act to seek a Circuit Court hearing either in his county of residence or in the county where the revocation originated.

Admit township ordinances and regulations as evidence in courts.

Diamond For Queen

LONDON (AP)—The world's largest pink diamond—valued at almost 1½ millions—will be one of Queen Elizabeth's coronation gifts. Dr. J. T. Cub Scouts Receive Awards At Meeting

At a meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 411 at the Jefferson School last night Bobcat badges were awarded to Michael O'Donnell, Danny Martensen, Aaron Raack, Roy Hebert, Jack Niles, Charles Vader, Richard Craig, Phillip Dambrosia and Thomas Perryman. James Perow was awarded a Wolf Badge.

The games trophy was won by Den No. 5 and because of their record of wins for the year awarded to them permanently. Den No. 5 has no leader and no meeting place at the present time so they voted to give Den No. 3 custody of the trophy until fall.

Theme for the month of May was "Nature" and the exhibits and the main part of the program were on that theme. Exhibits of work for the month were as follows: Den No. 1, plants, hand-painted handkerchiefs and tree specimens; Den No. 2, birdhouses and cactus plants; Den No. 3, birdhouses and corsages; Den No. 4, corsages. The handkerchiefs, plants and corsages were gifts to the mothers of the boys for Mother's Day.

The program consisted of a recital of Joyce Kilmer's poem "Trees" by Den No. 1, talks on their recent trip to the fish hatchery and the Big Spring at Manistique by Den No. 2, descriptions of birds by Den No. 3, a skit illustrating hunting and fishing game laws by Den No. 4 and a pyramid by Den No. 5.

Glenn Matheson, Packmaster, announced the participation of the Cub Scouts in the Memorial Day parade. All Cub Scouts who wish to march in the parade are to be at the Junior High School Saturday morning at 9:45.

confidently feel that my services have left a good record."

Decision Reversed

Revenue Bureau workers testified yesterday that a series of technical specialists approved an unfavorable tax ruling for John L. Leban, former vice president of Schenley Industries and a contributor to Democratic and Republican election campaigns. The ruling was reversed in Leban's favor, however, in the office of former Revenue Bureau Chief Counsel Charles Oliphant, about Oct. 30, 1950.

Subcommittee Counsel John E. Tobin read from Oliphant's telephone log that Snyder had called Oliphant four days earlier about the Leban case.

"There is a case I would like to have expedited," Snyder was quoted as saying. "This must be gotten out immediately."

Romanian Diplomat Blackmailed Told To Get Out Of US

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States ordered today the "immediate departure" of a Communist Romanian diplomat. It said he tried to blackmail an American citizen into spying for the Romanian government.

The State Department said the diplomat, Christache Zambelet, legation first secretary, "attempted to subvert" V. C. Georgescu, a naturalized American citizen of Romanian descent, May 20 in New York.

"The price offered for this collaboration was to be the welfare of Mr. Georgescu's minor sons and their possible restoration to their parents," the department said.

Georgescu's sons, Constantin, 19, and Peter, 14, are still in Romania and have been refused permission to join their parents in the United States.

Georgescu, who was former general manager of Romano Americano, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey in Romania, reported Zambelet's proposition to the FBI and the State Department.

Benton Harbor Landmark Burns

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A spectacular fire, hidden for a time in a heavy fog, destroyed a downtown landmark early today at an estimated loss of more than $100,000.

The games trophy was won by Den No. 5 and because of their record of wins for the year awarded to them permanently. Den No. 5 has no leader and no meeting place at the present time so they voted to give Den No. 3 custody of the trophy until fall.

President's Military Budget Is Invitation To Attack, Say Foes

magic formula by which we can cut our plane building program and still increase our air strength, Congress ought to be told about it," Russell said sarcastically.

"If he can perform such feats of legerdemain, the logical sequence would be to cut the air power requests 10 billion dollars and get twice as much defense."

Maybank said he, for one, isn't going to vote to spend $5,800,000,000 to supply military and other assistance to U. S. Allies while reducing the amount available to America's own air arm. He said he thinks the MSA program can stand a slash of two billion dollars.

Price based his conclusions on a letter from Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge to Wilson, dated May 7. Price said it indicated that Wilson had not shaved enough from the Truman budget to carry out "the administration's stated policies and budget objectives."

The Bureau of the Budget is the President's spokesman on fiscal matters and has the final voice on all budgets before they are sent to Congress.

Mau Mau Terrorist Leader Killed By Troops In Nairobi

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—British-led security forces have killed a dreaded Mau Mau terrorist leader known as Brigadier Simba, The Lion.

He was shot down in a cave where he and members of his gang had fled with the head of a Somali native they cut off in a raid on a European-owned farm.

Two other Mau Mau raiders were killed in the same battle. The Mau Mau is a secret native organization which has been waging a campaign of violence against white settlers and natives friendly to the whites in this British colony.

Ten additional killings were reported today.

Back To Work Move Slower

The back-to-work movement in Delta and Schoolcraft Counties continues to grow but the pace has slackened off somewhat, according to Whitney R. Dixon, manager of the Escanaba office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Dixon, basing his conclusions on figures for the April 15-May 15 period, said total non-farm employment increased by 200 during the early days of the period. However, he added, 80 Escanaba carpenters became involved in a labor dispute as the period continued, so that by May 15 total employment in the two counties stood at 12,490, a net employment gain for the 30 days of about 120 men.

The 12,490 figure brought non-farm employment to a figure about 100 over a similar period a year ago.

Dixon said employment losses in fish packing were balanced by gains in employment in lumber and wood products, construction transportation, service, local governments and other miscellaneous industries.

The local manager predicted employment of wage and salary workers would continue to increase during the next 60 days. Total employment should hit a peak about July 1, he declared, and will be from 100 to 200 higher than the present figure. The increase will occur mainly in the tourist trade, construction and manufacturing, he said.

Unemployment has declined substantially from its seasonal peak of 1,100 during January 1953, and at present is estimated at 600 in the Delta and Schoolcraft areas, Dixon said. He said claims for jobless benefits, at 2,580 during February, had declined to 1,853 during April. The decline continues and should reach a minimum during June, he said.

Visits to the local office declined from 3,205 in March to 2,997 in April and the trend was expected to continue through May, for which figures were not yet available, Dixon said.

Reflecting an increase in the demand for workers, he declared, the local office received many new job openings, which, at 48 in March, rose to 130 in April. The office was able to increase its placements from 52 in March to 88 in April, the manager declared.

The local office still has both skilled and unskilled applicants interested in securing local employment, Dixon declared. He asked any employers who have openings for full, part-time or temporary workers to contact the local office of Michigan Employment Security Commission, 1323 Ludington St. Telephone number of the office is 2187.

Mileage Tables Are Prepared By Bureau

A new service by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau has been made available to travelers.

The mileage table published in the 1953 edition of the Lure Book has been enlarged many times to produce an attractive 20 by 14 inch placard that will be invaluable for service stations, hotels, Chambers of Commerce, tourist cabin and camp operators and others engaged in serving visitors.

The mileage table lists the distances between 66 U. P. cities and villages, including a large number of communities not found on most guides.

The enlarged placards, containing room for the printing of individual advertisements, can be obtained from the Bureau's Marquette office at a small charge.

Dock Shipments Still Ahead Of Last Year

Shipments last week were 213,733 tons.

Television To Be Perfect Propaganda Medium For Soviets

By BRACK CURRY
BONN, Germany (AP)—Will television become the perfect Communist propaganda medium behind the Iron Curtain?

The Soviets apparently believe it will. American authorities are inclined to agree.

Communist bosses in East Germany are getting ready to introduce television in a big way before "captive audiences." Television sets will be supplied to schools, clubs, hospitals, factories, collective farm organizations and Communist party headquarters. None will be available for private homes.

Edmund Schechter, chief of the State Department's radio division here, says:

"Wherever people gather there will be 'command performances' with everybody ordered to report to the television center to get the Communist word. This will be more effective than radio broadcasts. The Reds cannot control what radio stations people listen to."

"We know, for example, that in East Germany and other satellite states about 20 million people listen regularly to RIAS, the American radio station in Berlin."

Schechter, who has just completed a special survey of East German television in Berlin, says the Soviet-controlled TV there is still technically poor by Western standards.

"Only 25 per cent of their programs are in motion," he says. "The other 75 per cent consists of still pictures."

Communist TV is monumentally boring.

Recent East German TV programs illustrated the election of candidates for the Supreme Soviet in Moscow, the opening of the Prague Academy for Agricultural Science, life in East Berlin and masons working on a street.

False Alarmers Are Warned To Look Out

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Police and firemen may get three extra days of vacation with pay for catching adults who pull false alarms if a plan advanced in city council is adopted.

The council authorized the mayor to confer with fire and police chiefs regarding the advisability of making the proposal permanent policy. One councilman pointed out that there have been at least 25 false alarms in recent weeks.

Noted Dory Maker's Boats Save Lives

SHELBURNE, N. S. (AP)—Small-boat craftsmen are becoming an extinct species of artisan, but dory builders of this Nova Scotia port have a widespread reputation for a boat which saves lives.

Charles Wyman's dories are famed from Hudson Bay to Boston. Some of his seaworthy craft of oak and pine were lifeboats on war-time convoy ships to Europe. One carried a crew, torpedoed off St. Pierre, 72 miles to safety.

Serene History Of Hall In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Manager William H. Mortensen of the Bushnell Memorial Auditorium here told a Connecticut legislative committee considering a bill affecting places of amusement that the auditorium has accommodated six to seven million people in its history and has had to eject only five of them.

"Two were drunk," he said, "two were disorderly, and one was dead."

New Supertanker Is Put Into Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—A new supertanker capable of hauling enough gasoline to operate 13,500 automobiles for one year has been added to the Sun Oil Co. fleet.

The 30,000-ton, 815-foot craft is the first of four ordered from the Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. The tanker is capable of hauling 215,000 barrels of crude oil or nine million gallons of gasoline at a speed of 16½ knots. The vessel is turbine-propelled.

Romulo Heads New Philippine Ticket

MANILA, (AP)—A bitter three-way race for the Philippines presidency shaped up as former diplomat Carlos Romulo prepared to form a new political party and head its ticket in the November election.

Romulo, former ambassador to the U. S. and former U. N. Assembly president, broke with President Elpidio Quirino's Liberal party Sunday after his supporters stormed angrily from the party's nominating convention.

Ramon Magsaysay, another former Liberal party bigwig, will head the opposition Nacionalista party's ticket.

Jimmy Boyd, 14, Makes $100,000 This Summer, Has $2 A Week To Spend

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (P)—Jimmy Boyd is a 14-year-old who appears destined to make $100,000 this summer, but the money doesn't seem to interest him much. He'd rather talk about sports.

When I asked him what he was going to do with all those dollars, he replied: "I don't know. I haven't seen any of them yet."

As a matter of fact, he gets only $2 a week spending money, his mother says. Most of his salary is put into a fund to be used when he grows up.

Big things are happening to little Jimmy. He is getting ready to start his first movie, a race track story called "Run For the Money." He'll appear with Bill Williams (Kit Carson to TV addicts) and Jean Porter.

Proud Of His Horse

Then he'll hit the road with a 13-week tour of the rodeo circuit, which will net him a tidy sum. He'll sing some songs and maybe do a little calf roping.

All this doesn't seem to faze Jimmy. A freckle-faced lad with an infectious giggle, he seems as much interested in sports and horses as in the bright lights he has been basking under in the past year.

"There's one thing I don't like," he admitted. "I gotta go to a professional school where they don't have much sports at all. When I'm on the road, I got a tutor. I'd rather be in a school where I could play football and basketball. They're my favorites, those and swimming."

He also has his own horse, of which he is mighty proud. He's looking forward to the rodeo tour with great eagerness.

Ditty Started It

The rise of Jimmy Boyd is one of those amazing things that make show business fascinating. Nobody ever dreamed that a lad in his lower teens could become a record star. But he did, thanks to a ditty called "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus."

Jimmy started twanging his guitar and singing folk songs in his home town of McComb, Miss. When his family moved to Riverside, Calif., he took a few lessons from Mrs. Dorothy Hansen, a music teacher. Soon he was performing on local programs. The big chance in his life started when he auditioned for the Al Jarvis TV show in Hollywood in June, 1951.

He sang "I'm Little But I'm Loud." Whammo! Things began happening. He started appearing with Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Toast of the Town—and then came "Santa Claus."

Blackbird Wants Her Worms Served Cut Up

LOS ANGELES (P)—Cream Puff the blackbird wants her worms served cut up and on a plate. Otherwise she flies into a tizzy. "I'm afraid civilization has throttled her instinct," said Mrs. Sarah Sloan today. "The poor bird would starve if I didn't cut up her worms and serve them on a plate."

Connie Sloan, 9, rescued Cream Puff after the bird fell out of a nest. The Sloans tried releasing Cream Puff—now six weeks old—to return to the wilds. She returned at feeding time. She ventures on daily flights but returns when Mrs. Sloan rattles a spoon in a dish.

Eleanor Mauled

TOKYO (P)—Twenty Japanese women waving Communist banners manhandled Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in downtown Tokyo when she refused them an interview, the Newspaper Yomiuri reported. She was not hurt.

The newspaper said that when Mrs. Roosevelt's automobile pulled up in front of the labor ministry building, the women, led by an American-born wife of a Japanese, clamored for an interview.

During the last decade the number of U. S. families increased from approximately 32 million to 40 million.

NORTH CAN RAISE CROPS

EDMONTON, Canada (P)—Far north wheat yields of 45 to 50 bushels an acre have been obtained on observation tests at Fort Simpson, 825 miles north of Edmonton.

"Horticultural crops hold a primary interest in work at the Fort Simpson experiment station. The part played by vegetables in raising the standard of living in northern communities is realized, along with the need of building up scientific data," says J. A. Gilbey, head of the station.

Battered Oak Chair Is British Coronation Seat

WASHINGTON—An old oak chair, battered and mutilated, will stand as the focal point of Queen Elizabeth II's solemn coronation ritual on June 2.

Appearance, however, cannot mar the historic symbolism of 652-year-old King Edward's Chair, on which 27 British monarchs have sat to be crowned, says the National Geographic Society.

The ancient Gothic seat has lost nearly all of its original rich decoration. It has acquired, instead, scores of initials and nicks carved irreverently by tourists of bygone days when guardianship was more lax. Eighteenth century visitors especially could evade or bribe guides in Westminster Abbey for a chance to sit in the royal chair.

Scared By Nails

One schoolboy, the story goes, spent the night in the Abbey on a dare. As proof of his boldness and to while away the hours, he carved in the seat of the Coronation Chair: "P. Abbot slept in this chair 5-6 July 1800."

The Coronation Chair has further suffered abuse at the hands of the expedient, the well-meaning and the angry. Nails once used to fasten coronation draperies have scarred the wood. Well-meaning decorators applied a coat of brown paint for Queen Victoria's 1887 Jubilee. This effort to modernize the proud old relic has since been scrubbed off.

The Chair's worst indignity was an attempted bombing in 1914 during a suffragette demonstration. It escaped, however, and also avoided bombs of World War II, when it was safely hidden away.

Holds Stone Of Scone

The Chair was damaged as recently as 1950, when Scottish nationalists carved and splintered it in stealing the famous Stone of Scone which the chair contains. The fabulous stone, now back in place in its recess under the seat, is far more historic than the chair which was made to hold it.

On the stone, the ancient kings of Scotland were enthroned, and its legendary history proclaims it to be Jacob's pillow. Legend also links the stone with Ireland's ancient Stone of Destiny, Lia-Fail.

The Stone of Scone was captured by King Edward I when he invaded Scotland in 1296. He brought it back in triumph to London and commissioned his royal painter, Walter of Durham, to build a chair to hold it. He paid Walter five pounds for the Chair, completed in 1301. That is about $14 today but in those times it amounted to $500.

Richly ornamented with gilt gesso work and painted designs the Chair was further embellished with carved moldings and glass mosaics. A painted figure of an enthroned king, his feet on a lion, adorned the high gabled back. Traces of this are still visible. Four gilded lions support the seat, but they are relatively modern.

King Edward's Chair, placed in the Abbey chancel facing the altar for the crowning, is not considered a true throne since it is used only for a part of the ritual. The real throne is the seat in the House of Lords from which the sovereign opens Parliament.

Birthday No. 110 Spent With Pipe And TV

DETROIT (P)—Mrs. Mary King, who started life as an Alabama slave just 110 years ago, spent her birthday Sunday in her customary fashion—puffing on a pipe and watching television.

Mrs. King, believed to be Michigan's oldest resident, has lived for years with a niece, Mrs. Beatrice Hoskins, whom she reared. She said she still loves fried chicken and occasionally has "a little nip of wine."

"I thank the Lord for my niece and for the people who give me my old age money every month," she said. "I have no worries now. I just watch television and smoke my pipe."

Mom-Daughter Use Renel Young Mother Lost 46 Lbs.

Renel Concentrate is fast becoming a family remedy. Mother and daughter teams are common. A weight problem follows the new baby and the young mother remembers the clothes she laid aside. Mother interest and past results suggest Renel. The young mother is Mrs. E. Mastalanski, 6136 Rohms Ave., Detroit, Mich. She writes, "Before I married I weighed 110 lbs. and my clothes looked so nice on me. After I had my first baby I kept gaining weight and soon weighed 160 lbs. Then I was tired and bloated all the time.

Regularity was failing me. My mother told me about Renel and the good it had done for her. I tried it and I am so pleased with the results. In a short time my weight went from 160 to 114 lbs. with no ill effects whatsoever. Renel has been wonderful to us and we recommend it to anyone in need of it. We are never without it at our house."

Liquid Renel goes to work quickly. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. $1.40 at your drugstore.

Color Of Lipstick Major Item For Queen Elizabeth

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

A factor of major importance in the coronation is choosing exactly the correct shade of lipstick for Queen Elizabeth to wear in next Tuesday's solemn and spectacular ceremony, says Thelma Holland, British beauty expert to whom is entrusted the makeup of the Queen and most of the peeresses.

Miss Holland, an attractive blonde born in Melbourne, Australia, will discuss the beauty of the young Queen in a recorded interview tomorrow on the CBS radio feature, "Family Counselor," a public service feature of the radio drama "The Second Mrs. Burton."

Envy Those Eyelashes

Miss Holland says of Queen Elizabeth:

"One wishes that she could go all over the world and everyone could see how very beautiful she is. Lovely eyes, and do you know I'm intensely envious of her long eyelashes."

Miss Holland is with the British cosmetics firm, Cyclax, which has provided makeup for English beauties through six reigns. This year she is advising Queen Elizabeth on the makeup that she will wear during the coronation ceremony. And there's more to this advice than one might think.

In the first place, the makeup put on in the early morning by the Queen and the other ladies who will take part in the ceremony must be durable enough to last all day long, through the parade, the ceremonies in Westminster Abbey, and the festivities afterward.

Must Match Robes

The lipstick must be exactly the right color to harmonize with the coronation robes, and to look well both in daylight and in the artificial light of the Abbey. It must show up effectively in color film. Says Miss Holland:

"We've been asked by the peeresses to make a special lipstick to match their robes, so the makeup will all be in keeping for that great day. This is a rather deep ruby red, with soft undertones. We've discovered that a liquid foundation will last longer than cream and that's one of the things that will be useful."

Most of her appointments, says Miss Holland, are from 6 to 7:30 a. m. on the day of the coronation. A staff of assistants will be dispatched to the homes of the various peeresses before the ceremonies.

Mother-Daughter Party Held By Isabella Circle

Blue and white, the colors of Mary, Queen of May, were used in the beautifully appointed mother and daughter banquet held last evening at St. Joseph's Club Rooms by Daughters of Isabella, Trinity Circle 362, and their guests.

The tables were covered with white cloths marked by blue ribbon runners and at each place setting was a miniature statue of the Virgin. Apple blossoms completed the table decorations. Repeating the theme was a side altar with a large statue of Mary, surrounded by lighted candles and bouquets of apple blossoms.

The dinner at 6 p. m. was followed by an entertaining program. Tom Millington sang a group of western songs, "Mexican Joe," "Going Steady" and "Lady's Man"; Jim Gravelle presented pantomimes of "My Old Flame" and "Cry"; Mary Sue Boyce gave a ballerina dance; Joannette St. Cyr played two piano accordion numbers, "Whispering Hope" and "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes"; Judith Ann Boyce danced a sailor's tap and the talented Ann Giegel sang "Mother Love" and "Swiss Echo Song" and Brahms' "Lullaby." Mrs. Francis Boyce accompanied her daughters in the dance numbers and Ann's mother, Mrs. Roy Giegel, was her accompanist.

Cards and games followed the program. High score awards were: pinochle, Mrs. Charles Propst; 500, Mrs. Tim Derwin; contract, Mrs. George Anderson; canasta, Mrs. Marie DeGrand; games, Rosemary Ambau.

Mrs. R. J. Slosson and Mrs. Michael Bink were co-chairmen of entertainment and Miss Freda Derwin and Mrs. Arthur Bryson, co-chairmen of the dinner. Assisting them was a large group of hostesses.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor's Wife

XVIII

Queen Elizabeth loves children. Many times as we drove round London on our way to and from those Monday-afternoon treats Queen Mary used to give us, or on the way down to the Royal Lodge, Windsor, she would suddenly lean forward and say, "Look what a lovely little girl that is." Or, "Isn't he a sweet-looking child?"

Whenever she had to speak with children or take bouquets from their embarrassed hands, a new gentleness came over her.

"Thank you so much," she would say, smiling at them in a pleasant, open way which made them feel that here was not some magnificent lady, but a kind elder sister or aunt. She has a way with children which is quite delightful to watch. Obviously she loves to be with them.

That is evident with her own children.

We used to play, I remember, a game of peep-bo together when she was small. The Princess would be playing in the gardens behind 145 Piccadilly, and I would hide myself behind a bush.

Suddenly I would pop my head out and say "Peep-bo," at which she would go off into a long gurgle of laughter, which I would stimulate again by repeating the performance whenever it seemed likely to stop. It was a game of which she never tired.

I was amused the other day to see a charming picture of her taken at Clarence House, where she was obviously playing just the same game with Prince Charles.

As a private citizen she would be able to spend most of her day with them, and lucky children they would be.

This thought brings to mind the of her own household, with her own family around her, and carrying the responsibilities of the Throne is her father's own daughter.

Throughout the long association with the Royal Family which I have been privileged to enjoy, I have constantly had before me her parents' example of perfect unity. The King, the Queen, and their two lovely daughters always took such pleasure in one another's company that they seemed to draw strength from one another.

Their harmony gave no scope to the traditional jealousy of courtiers. There was none of the court favoritism and petty bickering of the old times, for there was no chance for jealousies to arise. The Royal Family as an indivisible unit, bound together by love and loyalty, stood above and apart from all that.

Constant Companions

During the King's illness and the absence of the Duke of Edinburgh in Malta, the Princess and her mother were almost constant companions. It was not only her deep love and sympathy for her mother that kept her by her side, but also her responsibilities as the King's daughter.

And there was in that companionship also a continuing of the good habits that have grown up with her from childhood. When Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret were children it was their father's greatest delight to romp with them.

I felt that there was something special about his feeling for Princess Elizabeth. He showed it in a different way from his obvious love for Princess Margaret, who could always charm him.

Princess Margaret's personality was so compelling that she could make him snuggle up and tell stories when he really was too tired.

Princess Elizabeth would always sense his mood and conform to it. When I used to see them walk together from the Royal Lodge to the stables, where they fed the horses, they seemed to me a perfect picture of father and daughter.

The King, so tall and slim, bending slightly to the little figure by his side — and she, with her hand confidently holding his; always had so much to talk about. And so seriously.

To Princess Elizabeth he always used his normal, adult tone, as one understanding, sensible person to another.

Etch In Fine Lines For Natural Beauty

By ALICIA HART

Eye-brow pencil is a much abused though useful cosmetic. The most frequent mistake is that of using a black pencil when one is a blonde or brunette. Unless the eyebrows themselves are really black, a black pencil line will stand out on the face.

Another mistake is carrying the line down at the end rather than up. Downward lines are aging. Carry the brow out a fraction of an inch and lift it up, very slightly.

You can't work well with a blunt or too-soft pencil. Have yours very sharp and just soft enough to make a mark on your skin without discomfort. You can sharpen it on a piece of sandpaper or, with some pencils, on a piece of plain paper.

Master the art of featherstroking in fine, light lines, in imitation of nature, rather than drawing one continuous line that hardens the expression.

Before you begin, brush away all powder flecks and brush the hairs into a smooth line. If you wish to emphasize an arch, let it be a rounded one. A sharp point will make you look as if you were raising your eyebrows continually.

How Does Gasoline Get Here?

When you swing into your favorite service station and tell the attendant to "fill 'er up," do you ever wonder how the gasoline gets to the other end of the hose?

You're miles from the refinery, miles from the bulk plant, miles from the nearest railway.

Well, take a look at that tank-trailer over near the edge of the driveway. It's delivering gasoline now into the station's huge storage tanks.

That's how gasoline gets here! That's how it gets to all the thousands of service stations the country over—one of hundreds of ways trucks serve you night and day.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

Annual Cusino Fawn Census To Start This Week

Annual fawn census is scheduled to start this week at the Cusino wildlife station in northern Schoolcraft County, it is announced by the Department of Conservation.

Laborers from the Cusino inmate camp will help department biologists in a thorough check of the mile square enclosure at the station.

The census must be timed carefully to catch the fawns before they are strong enough to evade capture. Last year, 11 wobbly-legged fawns were caught in the big enclosure, examined, given ear tags and released.

Much of the department's important deer information regarding deer production and feeding habits has been obtained from this enclosure, which was constructed in the 1930's.

Change Made In PMA Operations

Greater uniformity, efficiency and economy in the operation of state and county offices of the Production and Marketing Administration are provided in changed operating methods announced by Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture, it is revealed at the local PMA office.

Under the new policy, which is taking effect immediately, the local policy-forming and policy-executing functions of these farm program offices are being separated.

The program and administrative policy-forming functions will continue to rest with the state PMA committees, selected by the secretary of agriculture, and the county PMA committees, which are farmer-elected.

Policies, however, will be carried out by committee employees under the direction of a state administrative officer working under the committee's direction and responsible to it.

All state committeemen, including the chairman, will work only as required on a part-time basis.

At the county level a county office manager, selected by the county committee and responsible to it, will perform necessary policy-executing functions on a part-time basis.

The change is expected to save $125,000 annually in state office operation and another $500,000 in county office functions.

Eskymos Top Ishpeming 8-2 For 27th Straight Victory

ISHPEMING—Escanaba Eskymos batters teed off on starter George Ostlund to collect five runs in the first two innings here yesterday and added three more off reliever Bob Sharland to ring up their 27th straight baseball victory by an 8-2 margin.

Two hits in the first inning provided three runs. Jim Beck was safe on an error and Paul Davidson smashed a triple to send him home. Tippy Larmay walked and Fred Boddy drove both runners home with a single.

In the second inning Beck rapped a single with the bases loaded to score Arnie Breitman and George McFadden.

Boddy Fans 12

Senior southpaw Boddy notched his seventh straight victory of the 1953 campaign on a four-hitter, stepping down for sophomore Harlan Breitman to tossed the seventh inning against Ishpeming.

Boddy fanned an even dozen to raise his strikeout total to 85 in 47 innings. He didn't issue a walk.

Ostlund left the Ishpeming mound after the second inning. Sharland held the Eskymos in check until the sixth when Davidson's single scored George McFadden who had been hit by a pitched ball. Escanaba added the final two runs in the seventh on a walk, a single, a hit batter and a passed ball.

RELAY FINISH—Manistique's Don Anderson, left, closes the gap on the front-running Sault Ste. Marie anchorman at the finish of the relay race in the Upper Peninsula track finals at Marquette Saturday. Sault's runner breastst the top inches ahead of Anderson as both boys finished well ahead of the field. Escanaba was third in the event. The second place in the relay helped pile up 13 points for the Emeralds in the Class B contest. (Daily Press Photo)

Powers Smacks Felch With 9 To 3 Defeat

POWERS—Coach Zig Shesky's Powers-Spalding Tigers climbed to .500 in the Little Seven Conference yesterday by trimming Felch 9-3 for their fourth win in eight starts.

The Tigers unleashed a 14-hit attack at the plate. The heavy bombardment included six doubles. Ralph Veaser pitched four-hit ball for the Tigers, fanning 10 and walking three.

Jim Sargent led the Powers attack with four hits in four trips, including three doubles. John Henderson collected a double and two singles and doubles were also pounded out by Don O'Neil and Don Bellefeuille.

John Krueger worked the full seven innings for Felch. He struck out seven batters and walked one.

Powers shoved across four runs in the first inning to get off on the right foot. The Tigers scored twice in the fourth and seventh and once in the fifth.

Next start for Powers will be Wednesday afternoon at 4 (CST) in a home showing against Channing.

Tigers Meet Cleveland 'Jinx' Team Tonight

CLEVELAND (P)—The Detroit Tigers open a brief two-game road trip here tonight, meeting their old enemy Cleveland Indians.

The Tigers just can't seem to beat the Indians during the first half of the season. For the last two years, Cleveland ran up top-sided margins in games played before July 4th.

This year it's no different. The Tribe has whipped Detroit five out of six times and missed making six-out-of-six when the Tigers pulled out a 6-5 victory with a two-run rally in the ninth.

Wight To Pitch

Bill Wight, a bitter disappointment this season, will pitch for Detroit. His record is 0-3. He'll be opposed by Bob Feller 1-3.

Wight has pitched 14 innings and yielding 21 hits and 23 runs. He has served up two home run balls—both "Grand-Slamers" by Cleveland's Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Porterfield of Washington.

This will be Wight's fourth start. In his three previous starts, he was kayoed after 2 1/3 innings, 3 2/3 innings and 1 1/3 innings.

Drop In Slump

But he is only one of many Tigers who have had rough going. Walt Dropo, for instance, is in a horrible batting slump and Detroit isn't going anywhere until he snaps out of it.

The first baseman, supposed to be the team's batting leader, has only a meager .233 average. After tonight's game, the Tigers will grab an overnight train for Chicago. They'll play the White Sox Wednesday night, with Art Houtteman doing the pitching.

Then they'll return to Briggs Stadium Friday afternoon, facing the St. Louis Browns in the opener of an 18-game home stand.

Champ To Watch Charles Fight

MILWAUKEE (P)—With heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano looking on, former titlist Ezzard Charles seeks his ninth straight comeback victory tonight in a 10-round bout against Larry Watson of Omaha.

Marciano will be scouting Charles at the Milwaukee Arena because it's likely Ezzard will get a chance to regain the crown in a September bout. The Cincinnati Negro was placed in the role of top contender when Roland LaStarza of New York turned down a recommendation from the National Boxing Association's executive committee that he meet Charles in an elimination bout for a title scrap.

Charles will be out to finish off Watson quickly. Watson has scored recent upset victories. He was a 6-1 underdog when he whipped Wes Bascom and last month in Milwaukee he defeated Danny Nardico, a 4-1 favorite.

Watson is expected to weigh in at around 178 pounds, some 10 lighter than Charles.

Statistics compiled by The Associated Press through Monday's games also reveal that Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees tops the American League with a 2.06 slate. Ford has yielded only 11 earned runs in 48 frames. His record is 3-0.

Hoyt Wilhelm is right behind Staley with a 2.20 earned run average. Vinegar Bend Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals is third at 2.30.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks, St. Louis Browns' righthander, is runner-up to Ford in the American League. He has a 2.15 average.

NEW YORK (P)—Gerry Staley, St. Louis Cardinals' ace righthander, has permitted only 13 earned runs in 62 innings for a National League leading 1.89 mark. The 29-year-old veteran of seven big league seasons has won six games in a row since losing the opener to Milwaukee.

George Fazio Low Qualifier In PGA

NEW YORK (P)—George Fazio, who has come close but never won a major golf championship, was the nation's low qualifier Monday in trials for the National Professional Golfers Association tournament.

The Clementon, N. J., pro carved seven strokes off par as he shot the Reading, Pa., Country Club course in 69-69-135. Par is 71.

The PGA tournament will be held July 1-7 at the Birmingham, Mich., Country Club.

Henry Williams Jr., runnerup in 1950, also qualified at Reading, with a 136. Williams' score was matched by Jackson Bradley, who led the Chicago trials with 68-68.

There was an ironic coincidence in Dark Star's retirement. Back in 1945, Polynesian, father of Native Dancer, won the Preakness, with Hoop Jr. second. Hoop Jr. suffered an injury in that race and never ran again.

"We had an indication of the injury Sunday morning after the Preakness," said Guggenheim, millionaire newspaper publisher. "But we wanted to make absolutely certain before making an announcement of this important nature."

"You can repair a bowed tendon so a horse can race, but they go back on you again."

Guggenheim said that Dark Star would be rested at his estate, Falice, in Port Washington, N. Y., until the fall, then shipped to a breeding farm.

Thus the brown colt—the only horse ever to beat Native Dancer—won't get another chance to whip the Dancer in the Belmont Stakes on June 13. Dark Star was running according to schedule in the Preakness, then suddenly let up at the three-eighth pole and finally finished fifth.

Baseball Sport Or A Business?

WASHINGTON (P)—Is organized baseball a legal or an illegal monopoly?

That's the question the Supreme Court has undertaken to answer. The future of baseball as now organized may be at stake.

The court announced Monday that it will hear arguments in the fall on:

1. Whether baseball is a sport or a business and

2. Whether the game's reserve clause violates the nation's anti-trust laws.

The reserve clause is the contract provision which binds a player to the club until the club chooses to let him go.

Baseball people concede this clause deprives a player of the right to bargain his services to the highest bidder. But they maintain it is a legal monopoly because, they say, baseball is not a business and thus does not fall under the anti-trust laws.

In its action Monday, the Supreme Court acted on three separate appeals, by George Tolison and Walter Kowalski, former minor league players, and the El Paso Tex. team and Jack Corbett, representing the Texas club.

All three suits asked the courts to find organized baseball in violation of the anti-trust laws.

Dark Star's Career Halted By Injury

NEW YORK (P)—The racing career of Dark Star, the rage-to-riches colt who won the Kentucky Derby in one of the biggest upsets in the history of the run for the roses, came to an abrupt end today, the result of an injury to his right foreleg.

Owner Harry G. Guggenheim, who bought Dark Star for $6,500 in 1951 at the Keeneland Sales where he was shopping for another yearling, said the injury was a bowed tendon and that it was suffered in the Preakness last Saturday.

Thus the brown colt—the only horse ever to beat Native Dancer—won't get another chance to whip the Dancer in the Belmont Stakes on June 13. Dark Star was running according to schedule in the Preakness, then suddenly let up at the three-eighth pole and finally finished fifth.

High School Age Rule Is Revised By MHSAA

BAY CITY (P)—The executive council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association last night amended several controversial regulations governing eligibility rules for state school boys athletes.

The council revised a rule limiting high school athletes whose 19th birthday falls on or after Sept. 1 of any school year, to sports participation only in the quarter following their birthday. Under the new rule, high school athletes will be eligible for sports competition for the rest of the school year in which their 19th birthday occurs.

Under council action, the same regulation will apply for junior high school athletes who reach the age of 16 on or after Sept. 1 of any school year.

These Still Ineligible

Students who reach their 19th birthday before Sept. 1 still are ineligible to compete in athletics.

Executive Council Director Charles Forsythe said the amendment was approved after the directors completed a survey of MHSAA members.

Other council action resulted in a partial modification of the present rule banning high school teams from pre-season scrimmage games with other teams.

The rule was changed to allow high school teams to scrimmage with other teams provided the scrimmage does not occur before the first regular opening date of any sport as scheduled by the MHSAA.

The change means high school football squads can scrimmage with another team if they postpone the opening of the regular season which has been set for Sept. 3 by the MHSAA.

New Regulation

The council also ruled that basketball players who play for non-prep teams during the regular high school basketball season will lose sports eligibility according to their class standing.

Seniors will be barred from sports competition for the remainder of the school year if they played non-high school basketball before Feb. 15 of a school year.

The executive council also voted to join other states in barring high school athletes who sign major or minor league baseball contracts from further prep competition.

Forsythe said next year's high school state championships in all sports will roughly follow this year's schedule.

Ralph Bond Picks Up Rare Birdie

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (P)—A birdie without laying on the fairway or the green—that was Ralph Bond's achievement Monday as he qualified for the PGA golf tournament at Birmingham, Mich., July 1-9.

Bond shot a two-under per 69 and a 74 for low medal score of 143 at Youngstown's Tippecanoe course.

Here is how the birdie happened:

Bond sliced his drive on the fourth hole, a 425-yard par four. His second shot landed in tall grass. Then he lofted an 80-yard wedge shot that hit the pin on the fly, and slid straight down into the hole for a birdie three.

Records Set, Games Become Nightmares

Odd Doings In Night Games

(By The Associated Press)

Night games turned into nightmares in the major leagues Monday. Included in the action were:

1. A modern major league record for consecutive strikeouts.
2. The longest nine inning game in the history of baseball.
3. The season's high in hits for an American League team.
4. A run scored on a "three base walk," plus a balk.
5. One club using 23 players, equalling the American League record.

Max Surkont of the Milwaukee Braves struck out seven Cincinnati batters in a row, waited 38 minutes for a rainstorm to subside, then fanned one more for the modern record. He won the game, the second half of a twilight-night doubleheader, 10-3, for his sixth without a defeat.

Tosses Three-Hitter

A gathering of 24,445 of the Milwaukee faithful braved six hours of rain and high winds to watch their new pets win both games. Rookie Don Liddle hurled a three hitter to take the opener, 5-1.

The marathon game was at Yankee Stadium. The Boston Red Sox needed three hours and 52 minutes to whip New York, 14-10. The Red Sox pounded six New York pitchers for 20 hits, high in the American League this season.

Down by as much as eight runs, the Yanks rallied in the late innings and in the ninth Joe Collins went all the way around for free. He walked, advanced to second and third unmolested and scored on a balk by Ellis Kinder.

Big Day At Bat

Maury McDermott, the starting Boston pitcher, hit a double and three singles in four times at bat. He wore himself out running and had to be replaced on the mound in the sixth.

The Yankee loss cut their first place margin to 2½ games over the Chicago White Sox, who edged St. Louis, 7-5. The Browns used 23 men. This tied an American League record.

In the only other American League action, the Washington Senators scored five runs in the first inning and downed the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-1.

In the National League, the twin Milwaukee triumph gave the Braves a full game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals, who went on an 18-hit rampage against a half dozen Chicago pitchers in pounding out a 14-3 decision. New York won a 6-3 verdict over Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn rallied to hand Philadelphia its fifth straight loss, 11-9, at night after a delay of an hour and 21 minutes because of rain.

Cleveland and Detroit in the American League weren't scheduled.

Musial Is Star

Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst starred in the Cardinal victory. Musial drove in six runs with a pair of homers, his third and fourth of the year, plus a single, while Schoendienst got four hits.

Ralph Kiner hit his 300th major league home run at Pittsburgh and it produced all three of the Pirates' runs.

Philadelphia skidded into fourth place by losing to Brooklyn. The Phils jumped off to a 3-0 lead but the Dodgers decided things in the eighth when Jackie Robinson homered with two on and Roy Campanella followed with his 14th circuit drive of the season.

Cameron, Brewer Rotary Speakers

Superintendent Wallace C. Cameron told Rotarians Monday noon that a survey he is conducting to determine how Gladstone High School graduates fare after leaving school is proving favorable though the work is not as yet completed.

A check of students who have attended college after graduation revealed they have done better than average work. However, the survey on students who took commercial and general courses has not been finished.

Results of the study are to be made public later.

H. T. Brewer, chairman of the Gladstone Community Hospital project, reported on the progress made to date and requested naming of a representative of the service club.

Brewer reported on the organization of the Hospital Authority and said that application for a government grant has been made. He said the board decided to try to finance the project through voluntary donations and that in the very near future an intensive campaign is to be started to obtain funds. The help of a large number of persons will be necessary in the effort, he declared.

He said that many persons had the mistaken impression that property owners in each governmental unit participating in the Hospital Authority would be subject to tax levy. He pointed out that this would only apply in the event the township, town or city approved the levy and that the amount is limited by law to 4/10ths mill. This would amount to only $12,000 if it was applied to the total assessment of around $3,000,000 in Delta county.

Clarence Goodman was named by the board of directors to represent the Rotary club at future meetings.

Wolves To Play Off For NCAA Berth Soon

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan's baseball team will meet Ohio University here May 29-30 to determine which will represent District Four in the NCAA tournament at Omaha, Neb.

For the second year in a row the Wolverines are Big Ten co-champions with Illinois. Their selection for the NCAA eliminations was announced Monday.

The Wolverines won 10 and lost 3 in Big Ten competition and won 15 of 23 overall. Ohio University, of the Mid-America conference, has a 17-2 season record.

The NCAA District Four selection committee is made up of John Kobs, Michigan State; Jake Klein, Notre Dame, and Marty Karow, Ohio State.

Big Ten Is All Set To Renew Rose Bowl Pact

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Having already voted individually by schools, the Big Ten is ready to give collective conference approval Thursday for a three-year extension of the Rose Bowl pact—a million dollar football chafel.

Faculty representatives are ready to cast a 6-4 vote in favor of renewing the series with the Pacific Coast conference after the present contract expires with the 1954 New Year's Day game.

Schools favoring continuation are Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Purdue, Iowa and Ohio State.

Voted No

Those voting against it were Minnesota, Northwestern, Wisconsin and Michigan State, the 1952 national champion and this year eligible for the first time for the Big Ten football title and possible Rose Bowl participation.

In school voting, a process stretching out for the last three months, the key ballot was a "yes" cast by Purdue.

Purdue was co-champion in 1952 with Wisconsin. The latter was chosen for the Rose Bowl and lost 7-0 to Southern California, the first Big Ten defeat since the rivalry began in 1947.

Spartans Favored
Michigan State is favored for the 1953 Big Ten crown.

Wisconsin is ineligible for the Rose Bowl next January under the rules limiting a team to one appearance in two years.

Illinois voted provisionally for continuation of the series. It is campaigning for a one-in-three rule.

Proceeds of Rose Bowl games are split 50-50. The Big Ten divides its shares 12 ways — the representative team receiving two shares, each other conference school one share and the commissioner's office one.

Including the 1954 proceeds, the Big Ten will have realized approximately $960,000 since the series started.

Kiner Reaches 300th Homer Fastest Of All

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Big Ralph Kiner boasts 300 home runs today—a feat he accomplished faster than any other great slugger in major league history—even the mighty Babe Ruth.

Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, attained the goal yesterday by belting a 1-1 pitch—a curve ball—off pitcher Al Corwin of the New York Giants in the fifth inning with two teammates aboard.

That gave Kiner the distinction of joining the ranks of 11 others who have hit 300 home runs or more. They are:

Babe Ruth 714, Jimmy Foxx 534, Mel Ott 511, Lou Gehrig 494, Joe DiMaggio 361, Johnny Mize 352, Hank Greenberg 337, Ted Williams 323, Al Simmons 307, Rogers Hornsby 302, and Chuck Klein 300.

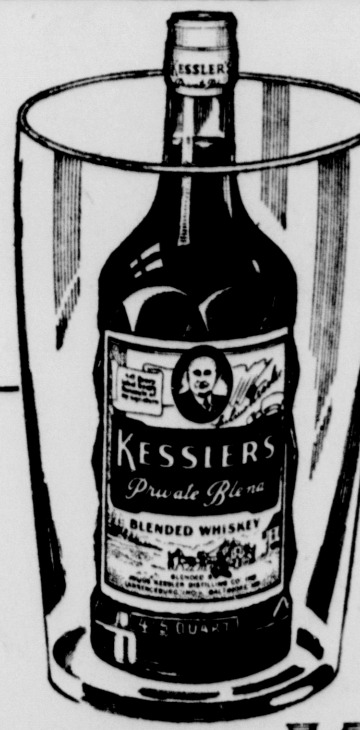

Kiner is the only active National Leaguer to hit 300 roundtrippers. Mize, the aging first sacker of the New York Yankees, collected some in the National and the others in the American League.

"It's a wonderful feeling to hit 300 home runs," remarked the 30-year-old Kiner. "But it would have been a lot nicer if we would have won the game."

The Giants mauled three Pittsburgh pitchers for 12 hits and a 6-3 victory—the ninth in the last 11 games.

The ball that Kiner belted for his 300th roundtripper and the sixth of the season was presented to him by Frank Hiller of the Giants.

Hiller caught Kiner's wallop in the Giants bullpen—340 feet from home plate.

Congressional Quiz

By Congressional Quarterly

1. Q—I've read a lot about Rep. Daniel A. Reed's (R-N.Y.) proposed tax cut, but just what would it mean to me in tax relief?

A—The bill would move up the date for expiration of income tax increases voted in 1951 from Dec. 31, 1953, to June 30, 1953. The 10 per cent reduction scheduled to go into effect for 1954 individual income taxes would become effective for half of 1953, giving individual taxpayers a five per cent relief this year.

Q—Does it cost my Congressman anything to phone or wire me if I need some information that he can supply in a hurry?

A—House Members annually can make phone calls up to 1,800 minutes and send wires up to 12,000 words at government expense. There used to be a limitation of 150 minutes for long distance phone calls per month and 1,000 words by telegram a month for official business. Under a law which went into effect March 10, the monthly limitation was removed, leaving the annual limit.

3. Q—How many persons are now on the government payroll?

A—Congress was informed recently that the federal government had 2,564,111 paid civilian employees as of Jan. 1, 1953. A report by Chairman Joseph R. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) Senate Government Operations Committee said this was the highest post-war total. By the end of January, however, the figure had dropped to 2,554,310, according to the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures.

4. Q—Is anything being done to remedy the annual deficit in operation of the Post Office Department?

A—Funds have been authorized for investigations by both the Senate and House Post Office and Civil Service Committees into the annual deficit, which is estimated at $641 million for the fiscal year. The Senate authorized $100,000, the House $50,000 for the studies.

5. Q—Why is the Republican Party called the GOP?

A—GOP refers to Grand Old Party. The phrase was applied by Republican orators to their political party in 1880.

6. Q—I understand a highway through my town is being built with grants-in-aid; what does this mean?

A—A grant-in-aid is an appropriation made by Congress to help states in maintenance of schools, construction of public works and for other public purposes. A grant-in-aid is made to supplement appropriations supplied by the state or locality and may be in proportion to such local appropriations.

7. Q—I know several Congressional groups are conducting investigations of subversive influences in the country, but is there any regular Committee devoted exclusively to making these probes?

A—Yes. The House Un-American Activities Committee, which with a forerunner has been rooting out subversion for the past 15 years, is the only full standing Committee especially created to expose subversives. The Permanent Investigations Subcommittee in the Senate also has conducted probes where subversion is suspected, but it is a subcommittee of the Government Operations Committee and does not investigate subversive elements exclusively.

8. Q—May one house of Congress adjourn while the others continue in session?

A—Neither house may adjourn for more than three days without consent of the other. If the two chambers disagree on adjournment date, the President may adjourn them, but no President ever has exercised this power.

9. Q—If Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby is made a member of the President's cabinet as head of a proposed Health, Education and Welfare Department, wouldn't that make the cabinet larger than it has ever been?

A—No. The cabinet now has nine members. If Mrs. Hobby is given cabinet status, it wouldn't be the first 10-member cabinet. On March 3, 1913, the former Department of Commerce and Labor was abolished and replaced by two separate Departments, each with a cabinet officer as its head. This raised the number in President Wilson's cabinet from nine to 10. In 1947, the cabinet went back to nine members when the National Military Establishment (now the Defense Department) was created and the Secretary of Defense replaced the Secretaries of War and Navy. By custom, heads of Executive Departments comprise the cabinet.

10. Q—I've heard about "companion bills" being introduced in Congress. What are they?

A—They are identical bills introduced in both houses of Congress. Thus both houses or committees of both sometimes are working on a legislative proposal at the same time.

Army Combat Team Chips In To Found Korean Boys' Town

With two successive payday raffles, the 5th Regimental Combat Team in Korea has raised $18,000 to found a Boys' Town for Korean war orphans on a Han River island, 12 miles from Seoul. The project will be a living memorial to men of the 5th who died in Korea. The $18,000 was increased to $21,700 by a collection taken by the Third Army at its Fort McPherson, Ga., headquarters. The Boys' Town will be a combined farm and industrial school for 200 youngsters, all under 18 years of age. It will be managed by the Seoul Y. M. C. A., under the direction of Dr. Dong Wang Hyun, general secretary. Picture at left shows Col. W. P. Knowles, representing the 5th, presenting the check to Dr. Hyun. Other photo shows two little orphans in the Seoul Y. M. C. A. singing a song of thanks to a delegation from the 5th as other war orphans look on.

Costs Him Plenty To Hold City Office

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—E. K. Bennett figures it's costing him to be a city commissioner. His name was called at a drive-in theater one night to win a $275 prize. Bennett wasn't there. The same night his name was called at his club for a $100 award. He wasn't there either.

Bennett was attending the city commission meeting, where they don't pay for attendance.

It is estimated that the population of Great Britain and Ireland increased about five-fold from 1751 to 1851 when the British were peopling an empire and doubled again between 1851 and 1951 under conditions of continuing migration.

False Tone Found By Church Organ Expert, Sightless

(AP New Features) LYNCHBURG, Va. —A 38-year-old Lynchburg organist and organ consultant is building a small pipe organ in the basement of his home to help him shed light on the mysteries of organ tone. But unless a visitor is accompanying him down, Bernard Williamson doesn't bother turning on the basement light.

Williamson has been blind since birth. It is Williamson's pet peeve that many churches fail to tailor their organs to the structures. Hence, they don't get the best tone possible from their instruments, he says.

Williamson, who has played the organ at the First Presbyterian Church here for the past 12 years, says an authority on the organ should be consulted at

A more difficult task than fitting the right organ into a church is to spot the reason for a wrong "fit" and remedy it.
